Taj Mahal is a historical sight of Mughal era with great sentimental values attached to it. It has been a great attraction for tourists coming to India every year.

BJP government has taken decision to not only exclude it from its tourism sight list but also demolish it, claiming it not to be representing true culture and values of India.

It is a clear evidence of insensitivity and intolerance of the state towards the religious, cultural and social values and sentiments. It is also an open proof of curbing the minorities and their rights. It is an extreme act, seemingly following the footsteps of its Taliban dominated Afghanistan state.

A global protest should be registered to stop India from further damaging the legacy and react to the true face exposed to the world.
